Property description

An opportunity arises to acquire a delightful, terraced cottage style property within the seaside village of Port William, which is sat on a generous sized plot. Having being extended, to the rear of the property allows for a conservatory overlooking the generous sized garden grounds. All village amenities are within easy reach, only a short walk distant. In good condition throughout with many features to appreciate including a spacious dining kitchen, separate dining room and lounge as well as a ground floor shower room. This property also benefits from an outbuilding to the rear with mains services supplied, currently used as storage however has the potential to be converted into separate accommodation. An ideal location for a second/ holiday home, viewing this property is to be thoroughly recommended.

With both the property being of traditional construction under a tile roof and extension to the rear, the property is situated adjacent to other properties of varying style and set within its own generous area of well-maintained garden ground. There is an outlook to the front over other residences of varying design with the outlook to the rear being over garden ground and beyond. The outbuilding currently benefits from having mains power. This is an ideal space for storage which can also be used for a range of options. Local amenities within this popular village include a general store, post office, café/bar, primary school, and GP healthcare.

The surrounding area has also been noted for its sites of historical interest. The pretty coastal villages of the Isle of Whithorn and Garlieston are within easy reach and where there are further facilities for boating and sea fishing. The well-known Book Town of Wigtown is only 11 miles distant and a wider range of facilities, including larger supermarkets and secondary schools, can be found in the market town of Newton Stewart (17 miles) and Stranraer (23 miles).
